Dear Nicholas:

I like to check if my understanding is correct having read the publication above (document attached).

1. Is it still OK to import perfluoroacrylate copolymer emulsion that still contains PFOA since this is a polymer product?
2. We do have ongoing use of long chain perfluoroalkyl alcohols before the date of the proposed new rule. How do we notify EPA that this is ongoing and confirm that we are still OK to export this to a customer in the US?
